SPRING 2025

The ESCCRC elevates the early childhood profession through cohesive professional learning opportunities, advocates for the highest quality learning environments for young children, and supports the unique needs of all families.

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Sunny greetings from the ESCCRC.

Are we all ready for warmer weather? Sunny skies? Outdoor play and picnic lunches? Winter weather is slowly revealing crocuses and daffodils, along with warmer temperatures and other spring-y changes we welcome after the snow-filled winter we had!

We face changes all the time: meeting someone new, starting a new position, working on a new skill or hobby, or taking on a new challenge. Change helps us grow. Spring is a great time to set a plan and try something new.

The first challenge I am suggesting is that you join a child care association. A child care association is a network of committed early childhood educators who create high-quality learning environments for young children on the Eastern Shore. Child care associations are organized groups of informed early childhood educators who get together to network, share ideas, analyze child care issues, promote quality, support families, advocate for young children and boost the child care profession. The ESCCRC is working to support a network of child care associations. Please be on the lookout for an email about how you can be a part of a peer-led professional organization close to home – and accept that challenge.

The second challenge I propose is that you reflect on your strengths. We all have them. Sometimes we are hesitant to identify what we are good at, but I encourage you to go look in the mirror. Smile at yourself and give yourself a real compliment. Think about how you encourage children to try hard things by cheering them on or smiling confidently as they build new skills. What other strengths do you have? Maybe mentoring new staff, creating the best lesson plan ever, storytelling, implementing outdoor curriculum or perhaps you are the classroom management wizard. We all have unique talents that, when combined with those of our colleagues, contribute to a well-oiled child care program.

The third challenge is to use your strengths to benefit the profession. Once you've identified your strengths, look for ways to share with others. How can you do this? You are champions at observing children, so put that skill to use by observing your peers – help out when you see a need in your area of expertise. You could offer your services on social media, talk to your director or speak to others in the child care association mentioned above. ★ You could become a mentor, write an article for a newsletter, present to a group of parents, or set up a table at a resource event for the benefit of colleagues and families.

If you take on these challenges, you will make a difference in the lives of young children every day, you will improve their learning experiences, and you will add value to the early childhood profession on the Eastern Shore.

Finally, take some time to consider the professional development offered in this flyer. Find something that you'd like to learn more about and then sign up. If you see the star, let me know by emailing me at lasinclair@salisbury.edu. I'll send a little "thank you" to the first four I hear from.

Best wishes for a wonderful spring!

Leslie

NEWS FROM THE INFANT AND TODDLER SCENE

Outdoor Play Offers Sensory Exploration Opportunities

From the Good2Know Network

Infants and toddlers enjoy using their five senses to discover the world around them. The feeling of sand, dirt and grass between toes; the scent of newly cut grass; the sound of a dog barking, or the sensation of a breeze through leaves are just some of the exciting outdoor sensory experiences available to little learners.

Non-nature outdoor sights and sounds are also sources of discovery and learning for children, as described in a video from the Head Start Early Learning and Knowledge Center:

“No matter where young children live, the outdoor world offers them interesting things to see, discover and learn. Everything that happens outside – crawling from grass to a hard surface and being surprised by the change in texture, waving to a mail carrier while out on a neighborhood walk, feeling excitement as a fire truck races by with the siren blaring, looking at the different shapes, sizes, and colors of buildings and street signs – helps children develop social/emotional, physical, cognitive, language and literacy skills.”

TIPS FOR ACCESSING HIGH-QUALITY PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The ESCCRC utilizes trainings from a data base of the Maryland Family Network, which have been approved by MSDE and designed to support the training needs of the early childhood community. Maryland Family Network has also established a collaborative partnership with ProSolutions Training for your e-learning needs. To reduce the risk of having training credit rejected by licensing or the MSDE Credential program, access training through the links provided on our website.

According to Schachter, Gerde and Bowers (2019): “Engaging teachers in high-quality PD is essential to maintaining and enhancing the quality of the EC profession worldwide. Not all PD offerings deliver content using processes known to improve teachers’ classroom practice and child outcomes.”

Update Your LOCATE Information and Enter to Win!

Maryland Family Network’s LOCATE: Child Care is a comprehensive directory of child care offerings throughout the state. Because parents regularly visit this site to make informed decisions about child care, it is critically important that information be accurate and updated. The more complete your listing is, the better MFN can help parents find and choose your child care program.

Please review and, if necessary, update your record today. Any additions and changes will be reviewed and made active in our database within just two business days. Update your information and be entered into our monthly sweepstakes to receive a gift from MFN’s LOCATE: Child Care. TRAINING POLICY AND EXPECTATIONS

CUR-Curriculum CD-Child Development COM-Community HSN-Health, Safety and Nutrition PRO-Professionalism SN-Special Needs

Thank you for abiding by the following training policy. By doing this, you are helping us maintain our high standards and provide the highest quality training:

- You must pre-register for all classes. Registration forms can be found on ESCCRC's website, in our newsletter or at our office. Training registrations are on a first-come, first-served basis; register early. You are not considered to be registered for a class until payment has been received.
- Payment for a class should be made payable to Salisbury University. We gladly accept cash, check, Visa or MasterCard. There is a $25 returned check fee. You can now register online with your Visa or MasterCard at www.training.easternshoreccrc.org
- Class registration fees are non-refundable. However, if you are unable to attend a training session, you must notify our office by close of business the day before the training or the full price of the training will be charged to your account.
- In order to ensure that all classes are conducted as scheduled, please register early. If the minimum registration requirement is not met prior to the class, it will be canceled. We will notify all registered students of this cancellation.
- In order to get a certificate for training, an attendee will need to be present for the entire training. Complete an assessment and evaluation and turn it in – This allows the ESCCRC to maintain funding as your CCRC and training hub. ATTENTION: In order to provide your certificate in a reasonable amount of time, you must submit your Assessment and Evaluation. No certificate will be sent if a completed assessment and evaluation is received after one month from training date.
- Please be on time for all trainings, as no one will be admitted late. Leaving a training early or arriving late can distract others from learning. Also, taking only a portion of a training does not allow for a participant to get a full grasp of the subject and takes away training opportunities from other providers who need the full amount of training hours.
- Although we love children at ESCCRC, please do not bring them to class with you.
- Certificates will be awarded to all participants successfully completing all requirements of a class. Please keep these certificates for licensing and credentialing purposes. This is your professional responsibility!
- Please check with local television stations for any possible cancellations due to bad weather. If a training is canceled, it will be rescheduled for a later date. The Resource Center is closed if Salisbury University is closed.
- Please be respectful of the trainer and other class members. Save private conversations for break time or after class. Cell phones, including texting, can be disruptive to others. Please turn your cell phone off at the beginning of class or put it on silent. Disruptive participants will be asked to leave the class and will not be given credit for the class or a refund.
